BioDerm, Inc. ("BioDerm") is a leading provider of disposable medical devices and wound care supplies to patients with chronic conditions. A manufacturer of proprietary male incontinence products, BioDerm also provides custom wound care daily dressing change kits to patients with ventricular assist devices installed due to heart failure. BioDerm's innovative, high-performance products help reduce infection rates, add comfort and reliability, and vastly improve quality of life for users.

Five Points provided subordinated debt and an equity co-investment to support the acquisition of BioDerm by Mountaingate Capital.
