Gen4 Dental Partners ("Gen4") is a dental services organization created by Thurston Group ("Thurston"), a Chicago-based private equity firm focused on investments in healthcare services companies. Thurston in partnership with Gen4 management, Lamonte Jensen and Mitch Ellingson, are creating the newest generation of DSO, one that is clinician centric, and patient obsessed. The initial Gen4 platform is a combination of five group practices in Arizona and Utah consisting of 15 locations across the Southwest. Gen4 will allow practices to focus on the clinical aspects of the business by relieving the growing administrative burden facing dental groups today.

Five Points provided unitranche financing and an equity co-investment to support Thurston's acquisition of Gen4.
