Fertility Specialists Network (“FSN”) is a fertility practice platform dedicated to delivering superior patient outcomes in conjunction with providing best-in-class clinical, operational, and administrative services to fertility practices. The company is a physician- and scientific-centric fertility network that partners with physicians to provide expertise, resources, and administrative support services that enable physicians to invest more time and energy into patient interactions, ultimately enhancing patient outcomes and experiences.

In December 2022, FSN acquired Boca Fertility (“Boca”), a leading fertility center in southern Florida. Boca represents FSN’s flagship practice in the Florida market and, through support from FSN, will expand its brand and footprint in the Florida market.

Five Points Capital (“Five Points”) provided debt and equity co-investment to support the acquisition of Boca by FSN, a portfolio company of LongueVue Capital.
